Category	Description
Natural Heritage	Sites that have physical, geological and/or biological attributes that are considered to be of outstanding universal value from the point of view of science, conservation or natural beauty.
Cultural Enterprises	A business whose primary source of revenue is gained through producing, selling, presenting, or creating a cultural product.
Cultural Heritage	Cultural Heritage is both intangible or tangible because it is expression of the ways of living developed by a community and passed on from generation to generation, including customs, practices, places, objects, artistic expressions and values. Cultural heritage is dynamic: it shifts and transforms through generations.
Cultural Facilities	A cultural facility is a space, which is used for the programming, production, presentation, and exhibition for any of the arts and cultural disciplines.
Festivals and Events	A festival or event is an activity attended by a community and/or public audience. The festival or event may have a specific theme that aligns with the community's customs, traditions, religions, and/or special interests.
Community Cultural Organizations	An organization within a culture/sub-culture that works for the preservation or promotion of culture. The term is used by public and/or charitable organizations, but its range of meaning can be very broad.
Public Art	Public Art is defined as art in any medium that is situated in a public space.
